Delta Sigma Pi to install local frat tomorrow

Delta Beta Phi, local business fraternity, will go national Delta Sigma Pi this weekend.

Pledging ceremonies for 49 of the local fraternity members into Delta Sigma Pi, international professional business fraternity, were held at a business meeting during spring vacation.

Delta Sig representatives were Jim Muenker, Joe Dellere and Henry C. Lucas, Grand Council member.

Formal installation of the new Gamma Eta chapter will be tomorrow. An informal ritualistic ceremony will be held in the afternoon at the university. Formal installation will be during a banquet at 6:30.

Allen Fowler, Grand President, and H. G. Wright, Grand Secretary and Treasurer, and members of Delta Sigma Pi from other universities will be at OU for the ceremonies.

10 speakers up for Vocations

The Vocations Day Committee Wednesday released a list of ten seminar interpreters. These persons will speak at the 10 a.m. seminars on Vocations Day, May 4.

Dr. Harold C. Lueth, M.D. will be the speaker at the seminar on medicine. Dr. Lueth is dean of the Nebraska College of Medicine and superintendent of the University Hospital.

The pastor of Kountze Memorial Church will speak at the seminar on religion. He is the Rev. Walter H. Traub, D.D., L.L.D.

Speaker at the seminar on sales and advertising will be Frank Waechter, vice president in charge of sales at Fairmont Foods Co. Mr. Waechter has been associated with Fairmont for 34 years.

Miss Winifred Shaughnessy will be the speaker at the seminar on secretarial and office work. She is Personnel Department Assistant for Mutual Benefit Health and Accident and United Benefit Life Insurance Co.

Howard E. Degler, technical director for Morley Co., will speak at the mechanical engineering seminar. He is a specialist in refrigeration.

Last of film series is group of 4 shorts

The four are built around the theme of American history and contemporary life.

The first, titled "The Inaugural Story," tells the story of the inauguration of President Truman.

Second is the story of the Mississippi River, past and present, with emphasis on what should be done about future development.

Third in the series is "Give Me Liberty" built around revolutionary patriot Patrick Henry and his two famous addresses, "f this be treason . . ." and "Give me liberty or give me death."

The last is called "A letter from America" which is a biography of a man who writes a letter to his sister in Europe describing life in America.

Women choose Bill Fear as Joe College

Bill Fear is Joe College VII. His identity was revealed at the annual Spring Formal at Peony Park, Friday, April 8.

Fear is a member of Theta Phi Delta and is president of the Interfraternity Council. As head cheerleader, he holds the position of chairman of the Inter-Pep Committee. Other extracurricular activity includes membership in the Warriors and the university band.

He is a junior with a major in Business Administration.

The new Joe College was elected by more than 50 percent of the university's women students.

Election each year is sponsored by the Feathers.

Make application now for practice teaching

Students desiring to do practice teaching next fall should get their applications in next week. This was announced by Dr. Frank Gorman, Education Department head.

Applications may be made out in his office, room 350. No teaching assignments will be made for students who have not applied. Dr. Gorman warned.

Ma-ie Day scripts are due at 5 p. m. today

All final scripts and personnel eligibility lists for the Ma-ie Day skits must be in the Dean of Students Office by 5 p.m. today.

Thirteen script outlines have been turned in, more than have been entered in any other year. Ma-ie Day Skit Chairman is Marjory Mahoney.

Miss Mahoney said the Ma-ie Day afternoon program "has need for a sharp emcee."

Conference features Tyson talk, television

A paper prepared by J. D. Tyson of the Speech Department will be featured at the Central States Speech Association Conference next Friday and Saturday at the Fontenelle Hotel.

Tyson's paper is entitled "The Role of Word Choice in Adapting a Speech to an Audience."

Other highlights include a television demonstration by Creighton University and radio station WOW and the first presentation of a prize winning play "Due Unto Caesar" by Martin Cobin of the University of Nebraska.

Student tickets are available at 75 cents according to C. Lloyd Shubert who is in charge of registration.

University concert band plays for near-capacity convocation crowd

The Omaha University concert band presented a 40 minute convocation before a near capacity crowd in the auditorium Wednesday.

Portions of the program were recorded for Monday night's "Your University" radio broadcast to be aired over KOIL at 9:30 p. m.

Under the direction of V. J. Kennedy, assistant professor of music, the 56-piece band played a variety of selections ranging from spirited marches to a "long hair" symphony.

A clarinet quartet of Rudolph Srb, Walter Sherman, Frank Ciculla, and Harry Thode offered a catching rendition of "Dark Eyes."

Barclay Allen band here on Ma-ie Day

Barclay Allen . . . rising piano star is OU's second name band of the year.

Name band will play four hours

Ma-ie Day, Friday the 13th, means no bad luck on the dancing side. Another nationally known orchestra will play.

Piano maestro-composer Barclay Allen will bring his "new big name of 1948" dance band to Peony Park that evening to climax the full day of festivities.

Still another attraction for dancers: the dance will start a full hour earlier than usual. Allen has agreed to play the four-hour dance, from 8 p.m. to midnight, for his regular price.

Maestro Allen's prowess at the piano is nationally recognized: for a while he was featured pianist with the Freddy Martin band, and since starting his own orchestra he has made many recordings with the "Rhythm Four," a band-within-a-band.

Music on Inn's wax

Five records with Allen and his small group are now on the juke box in the Pow Wow Inn.

Besides Allen's featured piano specialties, and the "Rhythm Four" taken from his 12 man band, he features baritone Alan Simms and rhythm singer De Lores Crane.

Although his orchestra, adapted to the public pulse of the day, is essentially a "sweet" band, there are sprinklings of modern piano and smooth four-beat rhythm in its offerings. The band is also noted for what a "Billboard" magazine critic called "a sensuous, slightly slurred Latin beat."

Radio time changed

OU's radio show on KOWH will be at 6:45 p.m. Sunday. The change was necessary because of conflict with baseball game broadcasts.

Home Ec experts attend open house

A student teacher and representatives of three home economics professions spoke at the Home Economics Open House yesterday.

Patricia Loop gave a practice teacher's view of home economics and Patricia McMahon of Fairmont Foods discussed the business woman's opportunities.

Lucille O'Conner told of her job as dietician at the University Hospital, and the superintendent of home economics in the public schools, Martha Artist, outlined teaching as a profession.

High school seniors in Omaha, Council Bluffs and surrounding towns were invited to attend the open house at 3. Patricia Loop and Phyllis Earp were in charge of the program.

Marilyn White supervised the serving of refreshments in the faculty clubroom.

Wolfe, Brady cop national debate honors at Pi Kappa Delts tourney

Two Certificates of Excellence and an outstanding record in debate rewarded the four Omaha University debaters who made the trip to Bradley University at Peoria, Ill., during spring vacation.

They attended the 16th National Biennial Convention of Pi Kappa Delta, the largest debating fraternity in the world.

Speaking on Communism and World Peace in the discussion division, Eileen Wolfe was rated excellent by both judges and students.

Lois Brady talked on four phases of Planned Economy and Free Enterprise to win the Excellent Certificate in extemporaneous speaking.

In the debate contests, the two women teamed to win five of their eight rounds on Federal Aid to Education.

The men's team, John Madden and Gene Step, won the majority of their first debates, but were defeated in the semi-final pairings.

Step also received high rankings in two of his four rounds of discussion. In the oratory division Madden gave his oration on "Time."

C. Lloyd Shubert, Omaha University's debate coach, was elected at the business meeting April 14 to serve on the national committee on Innovations in Educational Debating.

After the five-day tournament, the group traveled to Chicago to spend two days sight-seeing.

Tobias, Hemphill are elected by Freshmen

Ben Tobias and Kenny Hemphill were elected to fill the vacant Freshman offices.

Tobias will fill the Student Council position and Hemphill the vice president spot.

OU students invited to medics open house

The University of Nebraska College of Medicine and School of Nursing has invited the faculty and students of OU to an open house tomorrow.

Carter leads Norfolk High to news honor

A former Gateway editor in chief has boomed journalism at Norfolk High School.

He is Jack Carter, whose prep school newspaper, The Panther, received an All American rating from the University of Minnesota's grading service. This is the highest award given and is the first one earned by that school.

Carter is an instructor in journalism and English at the high school and junior college in Norfolk. He is faculty advisor and sponsor of the publication.

He was editor of the Gateway last spring.

Jerry Spain has April memories

April has special memories for Jerry Spain, music major. Two years ago this month, he began his tour of Europe—with a base viol.

In the spring of 1947, allied commanders abroad realized they still had thousands of men away from home—all in the need of entertainment. That's where Spain came in. As a member of Special Services Entertainment Corps, he began a tour of Europe with an orchestra. It included Holland, France, Austria, Belgium, Germany, all the major cities of the continent and more than 250 separate performances.

"They liked us for two outstanding reasons," grinned Spain. "Our music was American, and it was free." All other allied bands charged at least $100 a night and most army clubs found that too steep for their budgets.

Spain also plays the piano and is versed in the new Be-Bop. He intends to teach music, and he may conduct and compose.

He was asked if he had ever played before Russians. "Several Russian officers were guests of U. S. officers," he replied. "They all spoke English. They were courteous, attentive, and they liked American swing."

Last faculty lecture slated for Tuesday

President Bail will close the Faculty Lecture Series next Tuesday night at 8 in the clubroom with an address on "New Objectives in Higher Education."

The lecture will cover the kind of an educational program needed to produce the right kind of citizens for the right kind of democratic society.

All faculty members and students are invited.

Adwers and crew do spring house-cleaning

Two phone booths were installed at Omaha U. during the Easter vacation. They are located in the passageway just east of the check-room on the first floor.

Jack Adwers, buildings and grounds superintendent, had other spring house-cleaning work, too. Floors were waxed, walls painted and woodwork varnished. Light fixtures and furniture got a going-over.

On the outside, more crews were busy. The landscape was worked on and the track put in shape before the "April blizzard" hit on Thursday.

Speaker for the seminar on college teaching will be W. T. Davis, manager of the Davis School Service. He has been superintendent of various Nebraska schools.

Mrs. Edward Byck, co-owner of Edward's Fabrics, will speak at the seminar on clothing and textiles. She was with the Bon Marché unit of the Allied Purchasing Corp. in Seattle for 12 years.

The seminar on law will have as its speaker Wayne O. Stoehr, attorney at law. Mr. Stoehr is an attorney in the firm of Rosewater, Meecham, Stoehr and Meecham.

Emanuel Wishnow, concert master of the Lincoln Symphony, will be speaker at the music seminar. He is also conductor of the University of Nebraska Orchestra and String Ensemble.

Miss Elizabeth Rainey will speak at the elementary education seminar. Miss Rainey is supervisor of elementary education for the Board of Education in Omaha.

Speakers for the remaining seminars will be released in further issues of The Gateway.

Card playing bobs before Council; action postponed

By June Williams

The fate of a former OU "resident," evicted last year, is in the fire.

Card playing got a thorough "going over" April 8 at a joint meeting of the Student Council and several representatives from campus organizations.

Card playing is necessary in gaining social contacts, according to most of the representatives. Council members were divided in opinion. Some thought card playing should be returned, a few believed that the present situation should remain, and the rest said that card playing could be brought back only as long as there was no gambling involved.

It was decided to have each organization record in its minutes a motion passed stating that all its members will comply with the regulations governing card playing. Letters stating that this has been done are to be sent to council President Dan Koukol by today. Further action will be taken at the next council meeting. The regular council session followed this discussion.

To invite city officials

A notice from Finance Secretary Charles Hoff asked the council to work on improving the Dodge Street entrance to the university. It was decided to invite Mayor Glenn Cunningham and other city officials to a luncheon at the university. Students making complaints about the entrance will also be invited. Koukol, Tom Slack and Lloyd Metheny were appointed to extend invitations.

any reported that there seemed to be no possible way to improve the lost and found system in the bookstore.

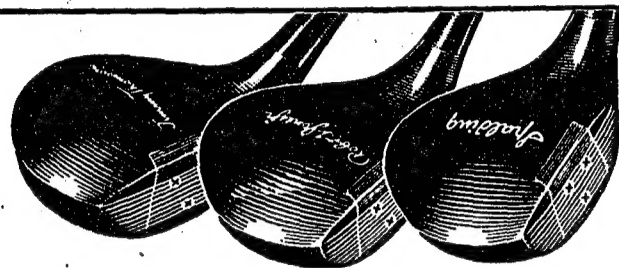

Bookstore Manager Ben Koenig said that any money found in lost billfolds was checked with the person who turned it in and then put in the vault. Koenig stated that those turning in lost billfolds also are asked to give their names but are not obligated to do so.

Ma-ie Day Chairman Lloyd Metheny requested that ribbons as well as the traditional trophies be given to Ma-ie Day award winners.

Net, golf squads in action today; thinclads in relay meet tomorrow

OU's golf and tennis teams are guests of Morningside College of Sioux City this afternoon.

The track squad is scheduled in the Sioux City Relays tomorrow. The baseball team will seek win No. 2 Tuesday at Morningside.

Neither Tennis Coach George Pritchard nor Golf Coach Johnny Campbell knows exactly what their squads are running up against. However, Morningside has always fielded strong teams in these sports so the Red and Black are probably in for a busy afternoon.

The Indian linksmen seem likely to make the Maroons their third straight victim. The linksters have not had too much trouble disposing of Doane and Washburn.

The golf team will be represented by Chet Stefanski, Captain John Duncan, Bill Berner and Dick Fowler.

The netters will be trying for a comeback after a 6-3 setback at the hands of Washburn. The strong Ichabods two days earlier had mastered Kansas University, 4-3.

Fred Pisasale, Harold Hlad, Bob Wray, Jim Reed and Dave Davis will make the trip today.

Eighteen track men will make the journey to tomorrow's Sioux City Relays. The squad leaves by bus this afternoon with the tennis and golf teams.

OU will enter teams in three relays—the 880, mile and two mile. Individuals will compete in the century, high hurdles, high jump, broad jump, pole vault, shot and discus.

Track Coach Lloyd Cardwell based his selections on Wednesday's performances in the triangular meet at OU. The traveling roster:

Cleveland Marshall, 100 and 880 relay; Carl Lomatch, 880 relay; George Sweetman, 100 and 880 relay; Bobby Dow, broad jump, high hurdles and 880 relay; Clon Fitch, shot; Charles Anderson, shot; Phil Barber, discus; Ray Beal, discus; Paul Larmon, pole vault.

Lorelle Aiford, pole vault and mile relay; Glen Richter, high jump; Brad Johnson, high jump; Don Bahnsen, two mile relay and mile relay; Dick Nelson, two mile relay and mile relay; Roy Carlson, mile relay; Don Thompson, two mile relay; Bernie Anderson, two mile relay, and N. C. Fitch, broad jump.

Baseballers have spent most of the week sharpening their batting eyes against curve balls. That has been a sore spot in both games so far. Coach Virg Yelkin has not indicated as yet who will pitch Tuesday.

Yelkinmen's opener blighted by Washburn

Washburn and one bad inning spoiled OU's baseball opener last Saturday by a 7-4 tune.

The Indians might have won but for a bad throw after two were out in the last half of the sixth inning.

With two out in the sixth, pitcher Bud Bridenbaugh weakened and walked two batters.

Don Farmer hit into what could have been an easy double play. Shortstop Don Fitch fielded the ball and made a bad throw to Bugs Redden at second base.

Before Lynn Hooton could bring things under control, the Ichabods had scampered to four runs.

OU baseballers taste first victory of '49

Omaha U baseballers leaned on a four-run splurge in the ninth inning to stop Doane College, 8-1, at Tuxedo Park, Crete, Neb., Monday.

It was a shoddy performance by the Indians. They could scratch together only four hits to five by the Tigers. The Omahans had to rely on 12 walks by two Tiger twirlers and five errors to manufacture runs.

Omaha never trailed, but they dealt Coach Virg Yelkin fits by failing to gain more than a 2-1 lead after five innings. It was only 4-1 before the ninth against the green Doane squad. It is the first year for the sport at Doane.

Pitching bright spot

Joe Spagnola and Lynn Hooton came through admirably in the pitching department. "Spag" allowed only three hits in six innings to gain credit for the victory. Hooton finished, giving one hit.

The only Doane run came with the help of two Indian errors in the fourth.

Rookie Catcher Duane Lippold performed capably behind the plate and contributed two hits.

Linksmen topple Ichs for 2nd straight win

Coach Johnny Campbell's golf crew came up with its second straight victory Wednesday afternoon on a wind swept Indian Hills layout.

The Indian linksters toppled Washburn, 12½-5½. Last year the Ichabods won by the same margin. And two years back it was 18-0 for the Kansans.

Wednesday it was a case of the Indians coming through when the chips were down. They shot their best golf when it was needed the most.

All of the Campbellmen decided their Topeka rivals except the No. 1 Indian, Chet Stefanski, who ran into Washburn's ace, Clayton Kline. Kline nudged Stefanski, 2-1.

Kline hit a 78 to Chet's 80. Omaha's Bill Berner shared medal honors with Kline. Results:

Clayton Kline, Washburn, (78) defeated Chet Stefanski (80), 2-1. John Duncan, Omaha U, (81) defeated Charles Maloney (83), 3-0. Stefanski and Duncan tied Kline and Maloney in best ball, 1½-1½.

Bill Berner, Omaha U, (78) defeated George Abbey (84), 3-0. Dick Fowler, Omaha U, (85) defeated Don Gascolney (87), 2-1. Berner and Fowler defeated Abbey and Gascolney in best ball, 2½-½.

OU linksmen swamp Doane in golf opener

Johnny Campbell's OU golf squad really teed off in their first match last Monday against Doane College. Indian linksmen drubbed the Tiger squad by 12-0. All four matches ended in 3-0 scores.

John Duncan, newly elected Indian captain, and Chester Stefanski were medalists with 78's. Results:

Bahnsen's 880 finish helps take gloom from 3rd place in triangular

By Tom Townsend
Don Bahnsen's driving finish in the half mile gave OU track fans their big thrill in the season's opening meet Wednesday.

Washburn College took the team title in the triangular with 76 2/15 points. Doane College was second with 59 13/30. The Indians scrapped up 26 13/30 points. The scoring was 5-3-2-1.

Bahnsen turned on the speed on the final curve and passed up three men to win going away. His time was 2:06.8. Teammate Dick Nelson, holder of the school record, missed the race because of illness.

OU's other first came in the high jump. Glen Richter and Brad Johnson tied for the honor at 5 ft., 9 in. Johnson barely missed an attempt at 6 ft., 1 1/2 in. for a new record. Richter holds it now at 6 ft., 1 in.

Dow Indians' high scorer
Bob Dow was individual high man for the Red and Black with six points. He had a second in the high hurdles, third in the javelin and fourth in the broad jump. He was running with the leaders in the low hurdles when he tripped on the seventh barrier.

Washburn showed three double winners in sweeping to their second victory—Welter in the mile and two mile, Concannon in the put and discus.

Doane's only double winner, Butler, turned in two good performances. After winning the century hurdles and Reichart in the shot with a leap of 23 ft. 5 in.

Doane and Washburn ran a dead heat in the mile relay. The time was 3:36.7.

Ichabods topple Indians, 6-3, on double victories

Washburn's hard stroking net team pulled victory out of the fire Wednesday afternoon when they annexed all three doubles matches to down a stubborn OU squad, 6-3.

The strong Omaha club surprised the highly favored Ichabods by breaking even in the six singles matches.

In the No. 3 singles, Indian Harold had out-smarted and out-stroked Washburn's Steve Sellers, 6-3, 5-7, and 6-3. Hlad's yee for the side-lines accounted for point after point.

Little Don Easter gave the Red and Black another victory by out-lasting Elias Hernandez in a three set marathon, 6-8, 6-1, 9-7.

The other Omaha victory came off the racquet of Fred Pisasale. Pisasale had little trouble disposing of Bob Grabham, 6-2, 6-4.

Despite the high wind that hampered the netmen all afternoon, the OU fans got to see some particularly good tennis in the first doubles match. Dave Davis and Jim Reed put up a good fight before losing 6-3, 6-3 to Eugene Echols and Bob Taggart in a match that featured superb net play by both tandems. Summaries:

Singles

No. 1—Eugene Echols (W) defeated Bob Wray (OU), 6-1, 6-2.
No. 2—Bob Taggart (W) defeated Dave Davis (OU), 6-3, 6-1.
No. 3—Harold Hlad (OU) defeated Steve Sellers (W), 6-3, 5-7, 6-4.
No. 4—Clement Shackles (W) defeated Jim Reed (OU), 6-2, 6-2.
No. 5—Fred Pisasale (OU) defeated Bob Grabham (W), 6-4, 6-2.
No. 6—Don Easter (OU) defeated Elias Hernandez (W), 6-8, 6-1, 9-7.

Doubles

No. 1 — Echols-Taggart defeated Reed-Davis (OU), 6-3, 6-3.
No. 2—Sellers-Hernandez (W) defeated Easter-Wray (OU), 6-1, 6-2.
No. 3—Grabham-Shackles (W) defeated Pisasale-Hlad, (OU), 3-6, 6-2, 8-6.

OU netmen look good in victory over Doane

OU's net team lived up to pre-season buildups last Monday when they snapped Doane's three match win streak on the home courts.

The Indians displayed plenty of power and tennis savvy in taming the Tigers, 7-0.

Coach George Pritchard reached down in his grab-bag for his No. 1 player and came up with Jim Reed, stocky newcomer to the West Dodge campus.

Reed obliged the net mentor by combining a smashing net game with a strong service to knock off Doane's John Alcock, 6-3, 6-4. Results:

Singles

James Reed, Omaha, defeated John Alcock, 6-3, 6-4, David Davis, Omaha, defeated Ted Alfred, 6-3, 6-0. Harold Hlad, Omaha, defeated Wayland Gardner, 6-2, 6-1.

Doubles

Fred Pisasale-Harold Hlad, Omaha, defeated Alfred-Alcock, 6-2, 6-3. Davis-Wray, Omaha, defeated Marek-Gardner, 6-4, 6-0.

WAA is host to high school girls Saturday

Omaha high school senior girls will be guests at Omaha U tomorrow for the annual WAA-sponsored Play Day.

Six girls will be sent from each high school to take part in the day-long schedule of basketball, soccer, softball and volleyball.

Lunch and a program will be provided by the WAA hostesses. In charge of the entire day's arrangements is WAA President Jean Bressler. She pointed out that the annual event promotes good will between OU and the Omaha high schools.

A western theme will keynote Play Day, and carrying out the theme, various teams will be designated by ranch names.

The program for the day will be handled by Shirley Alberti. Sarah Garo and Virginia Layher are in charge of the lunch, Beverly Swahn is publicity chairman and Peggy Stine will handle equipment. Barbara Betten will register the girls.

All WAA girls not serving on a committee, will act as hostesses and referees. Every WAA girl will handle some job in preparation for the day, according to Enid Wolcott, acting head of the Women's Physical Education Department.

Jim Tagney named 'Bachelor of '49'

Jim Tagney, Theta, was elected the "Most Eligible Bachelor of '49" at Gamma's Bachelor's Ball last Tuesday at the Blackstone Hotel.

As Eddy Haddad's orchestra played "Here Comes the Bride," the four candidates marched to the platform wearing green and white bibbed aprons. The candidates were John "Whitey" Jones, Alpha Sig; Al Epstein, Beta Tau Kappa; Jim Tagney, Theta; and Curt Siemers, Phi Sig.

Phil Gleason, last year's Eligible Bachelor crowned Tagney with a chef's cap. Ruth Jorgenson, mistress of ceremonies, presented him with a tie clasp. Shirley Hawkins then dedicated the song "Girls Were Made to Take Care of Boys."

The "Ten Commandments for a Bachelor's Heaven" included instructions for the girls to open doors for their dates, request their favorite pieces and laugh at their jokes. The girls were also asked to carry their dates' paraphernalia in small containers. The tables were decorated with white derbys.

Sponsors for the Bachelor's Ball were Mr. and Mrs. Ira O. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. James Earl, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Andrews, and Miss Barbara Hoerner and escort.

Thetas celebrate holidays at dance

Theta Phi Deltas celebrated vacation days at their spring formal April 14 at Peony Park.

Eddy Haddad furnished the music for the all-Greek affair.

Tom Slack, master of ceremonies for intermission entertainment, led the guests in singing fraternity songs.

Sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Henry and Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Maxwell.

Dr. Henry speaks to Phi Eta Sigma

"To enjoy anything intensely takes intelligence," Dr. W. C. Henry, English professor, told members of Phi Eta Sigma, national scholastic fraternity for freshmen, Monday night.

Speaking at the initiation banquet, he concluded that intellectual achievement in college paves the way for the greatest satisfaction in later life. Thus, one can "afford to be superior" despite the reputation he may get of being "a greasy grind."

J. D. Tyson, faculty advisor, spoke briefly on the meaning of Phi Eta Sigma. President Fred Barson was toastmaster.

Two piano selections were played by member Rudy Berryman. Harry Langdon, another member, sang "The Land of Degredation," a modern Negro spiritual by Robert MacGimsey. He was accompanied by initiate Howard Leasure.

Social Register

Alpha Kappa Delta's met for a dinner-meeting April 20 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Knappe.

William Ragalio spoke to the national honorary sociological fraternity on "The Goodwill Industries."

An intra-fraternity party was planned at the Sigma Lambda Beta dinner meeting Wednesday.

The newly organized social fraternity met in the faculty club room.

Kappa Psi Delta's will be attired in jeans and slacks for their informal party this Saturday.

The affair will be held at the home of Dorothy Brown in Council Bluffs from 8 to 11.

Feathers plan for national convention

At the Feathers meeting last Wednesday noon, Jean Satrapa and Eleanor Stastny were elected official delegates of the Feathers to the national convention of Phi Sigma Chi.

The two girls will journey to Manhattan, Kans., to attend the meet April 30 at Kansas State College.

As any member of Feathers may attend the convention as an unofficial delegate, an inquiry is being made about chartering a bus.

Former instructor gives birth to son

A former OU sociology instructor, Mrs. Claude Ledford (Beulah Harvey), gave birth to an 8 lb. 4 oz. boy, Richard Gerald, on April 9.

Mrs. Ledford graduated from the university in 1942 and taught here from 1946 to 1948.

Marriages

Zander-Miller

Joanne Zander became the bride of James Robert Scott April 8 at Kountze Memorial Lutheran Church.

The couple will graduate from the university in August. Mrs. Miller is a member of Sigma Chi Omicron.

Dustin-Roy

First Presbyterian Church was the scene of the wedding April 9 of Barbara Dustin and John C. Roy, Jr.

The couple attends OU where the bride is affiliated with Kappa Psi Delta. Roy is a member of Alpha Phi Omega. They will be graduated in June.

Birkner-McNutt

Gloria E. Birkner and Robert B. McNutt were married April 9 in the Nativity Chapel of Trinity Cathedral.

McNutt, a sophomore, is a member of the university baseball team.

The Ledfords will live at 6201 37 Avenue, Sacramento, Cal., after April 23.

Bushes entertain

Kappa Mu Lambda's were guests at a tea April 7 given by Mr. and Mrs. Martin W. Bush at their home.

Entertainment was provided by members of the newly reorganized music fraternity.
